

MG 113 - Introduction to Marketing

3 Credit Hours

Consistent with the American Marketing Association, this course introduces students to the concepts, analyses, strategies, and activities that create, capture, communicate, deliver and exchange offerings that have value for customers. Also, the process is examined for developing effective market positioning, a key for successful marketing. Additional topics include market segmentation and research, product and salesforce management, pricing, promotion and communication.