

MG 438 - Managerial Economics

3 Credit Hours

This course introduces students to the application of microeconomic theory for the analysis of management problems in an economic framework. This course analyzes the successes and failures of market structures such as monopoly and oligopoly, the development and use of market power, and strategic interaction among firms.

Prerequisites

MG 211