

BUS 522 - Principles of Organization Finance

3 Credit Hours

A comprehensive study of finance for the executive manager learning to utilize the financial tools to analyze and interpret the financial health of an enterprise. Students will have practical learning experiences to understand financial concepts used in corporations as well as small business in order to become skillful in financial planning and analysis.