IS 320 - Information Systems Management and Business

3 Credit Hours

This course explores the information system role in management in business. Topics include learning the various components, data transmission, management information software, and the ways that businesses manage data.