

BG 310 - Microbiology with Lab

4 Credit Hours

The course offers a detailed study in both basic and applied microbiology. Representative microorganisms will be studied with respect to their biological uniqueness and contributions to the biosphere viability. The beneficial aspect of microorganisms to humankind will be emphasized, and microbial diseases will be studied in a body system format.

Prerequisites

CH 110 BG 110