

PH 315 - Public Health Biology II

3 Credit Hours

In this second course of a two-course series that focuses on scientific and biomedical areas of public health problems through a molecular and biological lens, advanced topics in public health biology will be explored. Using current public health research, topics such as obesity, physiology of exercise, physiology of aging, and factors that act in reproduction and development.

Prerequisites

PH 310 BG 110