

ES 220 - Contemporary Issues in Esports

3 Credit Hours

This course will examine contemporary challenges and issues in the world of Esports. It will develop expertise about the growing market of players, sponsors, and vendors nationally and globally. Students will gain awareness about contemporary problems including gambling, sexism, discrimination, and conflicts of interest. They will also understand regulatory and other barriers to the growth of the field.