

ES 310 - Broadcasting and Communication

3 Credit Hours

The popularity of Esports has translated into a greater numbers of viewers. This has generated the need to enhance the viewership experience including by way of broadcasting and commentary. This course develops expertise in the streaming, broadcasting, and technical matters relevant to the production of a superior viewership experience for Esports.