NR 504 - Informatics & Technology Used in Healthcare

3 Credit Hours
Informatics used in nursing practice is a combination of knowledge and skills from nursing science, computer science, information science, and cognitive science. Within this course, major topics related to informatics and technology used in healthcare will be explored.