

ED 201 - Foundations of Education

3 Credit Hours

Foundations of Education emphasizes fundamental perspectives and theoretical progress of education over time and readiness of teachers for the challenges of 21st-century classrooms in the era of the globalized and culturally pluralistic society. At the end of this course, pre-service teachers will be equipped with a solid foundation of educational philosophy and become culturally responsive and globally competent.