

MKT 620 - Digital Marketing

3 Credit Hours

This course introduces students to the theories and practices of digitally driven marketing strategies. Students will learn the elements of analyzing data and utilizing intelligence for the digital value chain across different platforms such as social media.