

IS 222 - Cybersecurity

3 Credit Hours

This course will provide basic introduction of all aspects of information security. It focuses on understanding the most common cyber threat types and implementing protection methods for device, data, and networks.