

IS 210 - Drones

3 Credit Hours

This course will introduce field of UAVs and quadrotors. Following the course, students will understand basic mechanics and kinematics of quadrotors and the control systems of drones. Students will have a chance to practice drone programming. This course is not for the drone control but a course for the students having interests in drone programming.