

CS 425 - Advanced Database/SQL

3 Credit Hours

This course focuses on the advanced design and development of databases. Students will learn how to architect data storage solutions that are highly dynamic and scalable to meet the rapidly changing needs of business. Topics include client-server processing, parallel processing, distributed, and multidimensional databases.

Prerequisites

CS 315