

CS 455 - Advanced UX Applications

3 Credit Hours

This course allows students to apply skills in science and art to make technology useful, meaningful, memorable, and accessible to all users. Students will use knowledge from the Foundations of User Interface Design course to expand the research, design, programming, testing, and communication skills essential for success in this user-focused career field.

Prerequisites

CS 350