

ED 315 - Social Studies for Education

3 Credit Hours

Through a multidisciplinary approach, this course explores the dynamic interplay between history, geography, civics, economics, and cultural studies, preparing aspiring educators to effectively teach social studies concepts that inspire critical thinking, cultural appreciation, and an understanding of societal complexities.