

CSC 555 - Unix Network Administration

3 Credit Hours

A course designed for students to become adept at configuring, securing, and optimizing networks on Unix-like operating systems. This course provides students with the skills and knowledge necessary to excel in managing networks in Unix environments. Explore the intricacies of network configurations, services, security measures, and performance optimization on Unix-based systems, equipping students with the expertise to manage networks with efficiency and confidence.