

INN 503 - Organizational Theory and Behavior

3 Credit Hours

Through an interdisciplinary approach, this course will focus on researching theories and models applicable to innovation. This course will examine how organizational behavior, learning, structure, culture, internal reward systems, communication, ethics, and teamwork influence innovation.