

LEA 619 - Leadership & Society

3 Credit Hours

This course examines leadership in the context of topics such as social justice and social movements. It develops an understanding of justice theories and the ability of leaders to mold and achieve social change via social movements.